

WASHINGTON & LEE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW TRANSFER ORIENTATION 2015

Attendance: Optional Orientation events are noted as such on the schedule below. Unless otherwise stated, all Orientation events are mandatory.

Dress Code: Except for Wednesday's Honor Orientation, there is no dress code for Orientation. There will, however, be a number of employers in the building interviewing second-year students during this time. Your appearance and conduct during Orientation will likely inform their impression of our law school and student body. Some of the Orientation activities will require you to walk to various locations on both sides of campus. Consequently, you are encouraged to wear comfortable footwear. Please note, on Tuesday, August 18, your law school student directory picture will be taken during Registration. This picture will be shared with faculty and, on occasion, potential employers. Please dress professionally for this photo. Business attire is recommended.

Guests: Spouses and significant others are welcome to attend Monday evening's "Meet and Greet," Tuesday evening's picnic, and Thursday night's cookout. They are also welcome to participate in the service projects on Friday afternoon.

Laptops: Laptops are NOT permitted in any of the Orientation sessions. Please do, however, bring your laptop to Registration on Tuesday afternoon, where they will be configured with the law school's printers and wireless network.

Food: Food will only be served as indicated on the schedule below. Food will NOT be served during any of the break periods. Students are encouraged to bring their own snacks.

Our goal for Orientation is to welcome you to the law school and prepare you for the start of your first year. We are excited to have you join us in Lexington!
